UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 24.-Cattle-Receipts, 100; shipments small. The ts of cattle this week indicate a decrease this week opened with a decidedly week. Taking it the week through, the good demand for stockers and feeders has been fair all week, and there has been little or no flucin prices. The highest sales this week were $5 for steers, $4.50 for heifers, $4 for cows. $4 for bulls and $8 for calves. The receipts to- $6.75@6.971/2; rough heavy, $6.45@6.70; light, $6@ day were quite small, but, with a number car- 6.40; bulk of sales, $5.45@6.65. ried over from yesterday, the supply on sale was about as large as expected for Saturday.

The resmall volume, showing a decrease of 11,000 compared with last week, little change compared with the same week a year ago, and a decrease of 4,500 compared with the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are a little over 5,000 larger than the same period ast year. For the week ending yesterday the leading local packers bought a total of 20,678, 4.50; culls to good, $2@4.15.

During the same period the shipments were $,922, against 14,560 the preing week, and 10,213 the corresponding week a fear ago. Notwithstanding the receipts were of smaller volume this week, there have been frequent fluctuations in prices. The demand m outside sources, while reasonably good, been rather spasmodic, and local packers. course, have been ready to take advantage of opportunity to depress the market. All things being considered, however, they at all times have not been as independent as the conditions might have permitted, and, as usual, they have been rather liberal buyers when they with a decline of 10c in values, but immediately there was a raily in the market, and on Wednesday, which was the high day, prices were in the highest position that they have been for several months. The last half of the week there was a slight loss sustained in the average, but at the extreme close of the week prices represented a net gain of fully 50 over the close of last week. A feature of the trade here for some time past has been the relatively high position in prices of light hogs. The quality continues very satisfactory, and consignments included a good percentage of heavy hogs. The highest price paid this week was $7. The receipts to-day were fully 1,500 smaller than week ago, but a shade larger than a year ago. The market opened with very little inquiry from outside sources, but in harmony with favorable reports from other markets, sellers were holding so much, and no more, it is absurd to suppose that the federal government, especially persuaded to accept sellers' terms in most cases, and the trading was as active as could be expected, considering the number of buyers in the field. In a general way the market was reported strong to 5c higher than yesterday and sales indicate that a very large percentage of the hogs sold about 5c higher.

Late arrivals were taken promptly at firm prices assessed with the opening. Sales ranged from the supply sold because the supply sold becaus

-Representative Sales .-120 ceipts of sheep and lambs this week have been week a year ago, and nearly 2,100 over the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are a little less than 660 larger than the same period last year. Practically all week there has been a good demand for fat stock of good quality from outside sources, and notwithstanding competition has been rather limited satisfactory prices. ited, satisfactory prices were realized for the best grades; the less desirable sort, however, sold at least 25c lower. Toward the close of the week the shipping demand was not so good, but there was an improvement in the requirements from local sources, and steady prices were maintained. At the extreme close of the week, however, with only a fair demand from any quarter, the bidding was lower, especially for lambs, and most sales represented some change. For extreme fancy yearling sheep sold as high $4.50, but $4.25 was practically the top for that class, $4 for old sheep and $5.75 for lambs.

The receipts to-day were considerably larger than usual at this time in the week, and as usual on Saturday the demand was only fair, and buyers were not inclined to make purchases except at a good reduction in values. It was observed, however, that they were discriminating more against lambs than sheep, and the latter finally sold at nearly steady prices. Bids of $5.25 were made for lambs that salesmen were asking $5.75 for, and with this great difference in their views it was hardly probable that a clearance would be made. Saturday's Good Bank Statement Only a Small Check to the Movement-Future Monetary Demands.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.- The difficulty in intraders in stocks to-day, as it has in increasing degree all through the week. The Venezuelan difficulty still has a repressive influence on trading, and there was some disposition to couple the prompt signing of the Panama canal treaty with that question. Prices hardened, however, after the opening, because of the announced decision of the Washington authorities that the German act in Venezuela did not present a subject for representations by this government. The weakness of Pennsylvania was the unsettling influence, and led to an active selling movement, which was only momentarily checked by the bank statement. The close was easy, and with some quotations at the lowest. The selling of Pennsylvania seemed to be due to the news of the borrowing of $40,000,000 by the company. The moderate loan expansion by the banks, in view of the Pennsylvania loan operation, was an agreeable surprise to the traders, and prompted a recovery, which gave away again at the last. The stock market fell into a rule this week in which the narrow and sluggish fluctuations of prices were due to the varying operations of the room traders, whose day-to-day operations have constituted the whole market. Current comment on the market is largely made up of the conjectures made by this class of operators or the opinions they advance, which represent their hopes of an influence that will cause prices to move, as much as any actual information of events. The volume of dealings has progressively declined to the low level of the year. With the general public indifferent to the stock market, and with

The apprehension that the country has reached the high tide of prosperity still, exists in Wall street. The extraordinary business activity, causing actual blockade of freight movements in some directions, does not altogether dispel this feeling. It is offered as evidence that the limit of capacity has been reached by the railroads, while the tide of operating expenses and wages continues to rise. Many expressed hopes of dividend increase have been disappointed, and it is feared that railroad companies will feel constrained to preserve their surplus earnings hereafter against future contingencies instead of disbursing them as dividends to shareholders. Opinions over the foreign trade outlook are also mixed. The heavy exports of grain are a source of gratification and give promise of restoring last year's deficiency in the export movement, but the rise of prices here is a growing incentive to imports, as shown by the monthly statistics in foreign trade by the treasury bureau, and the possibility of foreign competition with lines of domestic industry is thus brought into normal condition of the market. The direction to be finally taken by prices when the market emerges from its lethargy is still a matter of doubt and conflicting opin-

On the other hand, the powerful current apparently checked, and it is believed, in fact, that the supply has approached exchange market shows, however, that the supply of credits making by merchandise $4.83@4.84. exports is not fully sufficient to pay off the $16.110,852. maturing indebtedness to foreigners on account of bankers borrowings for the great projects of the past year or two. The signing of the Panama canal treaty also defines a requirement for transfer of $40,000,-000 in payment of the French canal com-pany's claims. The outcome of the foreign exchange situation, the prospect of the coming year's crops and the working out of the money and banking situation for the coming year are felt to be of vital importance for the future. The foreign exchange situation is for immediate consideration and has been a repressive factor during the past week. Some consideration has been given to the Venezuelan situation. The request of the secretary of the treasury for the resubstitution of government bonds for others as security for government deposits has awakened some professions of uneasiness by bankers, but money has continued to pour into the New York banking reserves, been entirely relieved.

WEEKLY BANK STATEMENT. Meavy Increases in Reserves, Cash and Deposits-Loans a Little Up.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The weekly statement of averages of the Associated Banks shows the following changes: Loans, increase, $4,394,000; deposits, increase, $11,700,200; legal tenders, increase, $194,300; circulation, decrease, $85,900; specie, increase, $8,928,600; reserve, increase, $9,122,-

900; reserve required, increase, $2,925,050; surplus, increase, $6,197,850; ex. United States deposits, increase, $6,188,550. The banks now hold $26,414,925 in excess of reserve requirements under the 25 per cent. rpule; ex. United States deposits, $36,-

The Financier says: "The New York clearing house banks still continue to gain from the interior and from the subtreasury, the official statement of Jan. 24 showing that $9,122,900 in cash had been added to their reserves during the six previous business days. A rise of $11,750,000 in deposits minimized the effect of this continued flow of money to some extent, but the surplus reserve expanded $16,197,-850, making the total excess above the legal requirements $26,414,975, which is a million dollars above the record of a year ago. The statement is about as expected as far as the expansion in cash is concerned, and the addition of $4,394,000 in loans reflects moderately the activity of the season and the making of new commitments since money has fallen to a lower level. The increase in deposits is hardly as large as the foregoing operations would indicate, and the statement is not in harmony. Between Jan. 3 and Jan. 24, a period of three weeks, the banks have added a little over $26,000,000 to their total reserves, deposits have increased approximately $37,500,000, while loans are nearly $17,000,000 larger. Deposits, in fact, are now heavier than at any time since September last, as are the loans of the banks. At the same time it is to be noted that the cash reserve is now in excess of that of any previous week since March 8, 1902, when the total deposits of the banks were above $1,000,000.000 and the excess reserve was less than $4,000,000. The improved conditions of the banks could not be more appropriately illustrated. Still, it is also worthy of recall that the deposits of the clearing house banks, which at this time of the year were but $37,000,000 in excess of the present total, rose steadily until March 1 they stood at $1,017,000,000, while the surplus reserve of $25,000,000 had been reduced to a bare $4,000,000." PRIVATE WIRE ADVICES.

On the appearance of the bank gains in both the reserves and cash, and an increase in deposits, short covering took place and the market rallied, Northwestern regaining its loss on very small transactions; but no new buying power came into the market, and this is likely ing factor is out of the market, fluctuations more professional than heretofore.

MAY WHEAT'S HIGH MARK

CLOSES AT 82 AND 82 1-8C.

Corn Also Makes a Good Gain and Oats Are Fractionally Higher-Advance in Hog Products.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.-A new high mark was recorded on May wheat to-day, the top notch being reached at 82%, and after an active session the close was %@1c higher; corn was 1/4@%c higher and oats were up 1/3c. Provisions were firm, May products being up from 5 to 5@71/2c.

Wheat opened quiet compared with the activity manifested of late and for a time the outlook was for a sharp decline, but the were barely steady, receipts were small and the weather was favorable. May opened unchanged to 4c higher at 814c to 81%c, but soon declined to 80%c. Buying became quite active at the lower figures and a steady advance was made and late in the session liberal covering by shorts carried the price up to 82%c. During the last half hour there was a large amount of liquidation and a reaction set in, the close being steady with May %@1c higher at 82@ 821/4c. A large part of the late selling was credited to the chief bull interest. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 528,300 bu. Primary receipts were 591,200 bu, against 439,400 a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 400 cars, which, with local receipts of 44 cars-none of contract grade-made a total of 444 cars, against 336 last week and 443 a year ago. Corn ruled firm, the strength in wheat being the main supporting factor. Local traders were active in bulling the market. Offerings were light and prices responded readily to the generally bullish sentiment. It is reported that the same interest that is manipulating the wheat market is' long a big line of corn. The weather was favorable for the movement. but the car shortage was still a drawback to liberal receipts. The close was firm with May 140% higher at 44% Q45c, after selling between 44%c and 45%c. Receipts were 438 cars, four of contract grade. Oats were firm in sympathy with wheat. There was no significant trade. Local traders favored the buying side and offerings were light. The close was steady with

May %c higher at 36%@36%c, after ranging between 36%c and 36%c. Receipts were 235 Provisions were dull, but a strong feeling prevailed on a good general demand for the May products on outside orders. Lighter receipts for hogs and a firm market at the yards were early bull factors, and the strength in grains added to the upward tendency. The close was firm with May pork up 7½c at $16.90, lard 5c higher at $9.65 and ribs 5@7½c higher at $9.27½.
